City Blasts Fire Survey, Charges 'Full Of Errors'

HE ESCAPES AGAIN

Burglar Fires 4 Shots At Cop

The closest Daly City police have come to the busy Peninsula burglar was almost too close here Tuesday night about 7 o'clock.

Officer Jerry Galindo, staking out the area behind 188 Wilshire avenue below the golf course, met the burglar head on at a distance of about 35 feet.

Galindo, hiding in the underbrush, quickly shined his flashlight into the intruder's face. The latter then fired four shots at the officer who returned the fusillade with three shots from his own .38.

The burglar, definitely "The Cat" who has raided almost 70 Peninsula homes since last June, about 12 of these in Westlake, fled onto the golf course greens. Galindo immediately called for assistance and Daly City, Broadmoor and San Francisco police swarmed the area and continued the hunt.

Galindo said "The Cat" was of a stocky build, about 35 years old, had a thin black mustache and apparently was carrying the gun in his hand as he headed for the homes on Wilshire. The culprit also had an unlit cigar dangling from his mouth.

Daly City and San Francisco police have had this much burglarized area of Westlake under heavy surveillance on a round-the-clock schedule.

Judging from Tuesday's caper, "The Cat" must have nine lives. His luck has just about run out, however.

Council Passes Food Ordinance By 4-1 Vote

Daly City's new food ordinance was adopted by the council Monday night and goes into effect in 30 days.

The new ordinance was drafted at the request of the county to maintain uniform food inspection practices in all its cities. Basically, it prohibits the sale of food of any type for public consumption unless the food is prepared in licensed kitchens and subject to periodic inspection by county health department representatives.

City Manager George Watts, who notified all local PTAs, church and school groups of the ordinance restrictions, said most of these units weren't opposed to the ordinance.

Actually these groups will be allowed to continue their cook-

Police Find Marijuana In Party Raid

Daly City police today continued their investigation of a raid they staged early Tuesday morning which resulted in the roundup of five young men on suspicion of possessing narcotics.

Sgt. David Hansen and his graveyard shift crew booked the five about 3 a.m. Tuesday after breaking up a reported "booze" party at the home of Mrs. Oleta Ruffer, 189 Alexander street.

The officers found one marijuana cigarette in a package on a table in the home and are checking on a "powdery substance" which they found in the car of one of the party participants.

Sgt. Bruno Conci, proceeding with the investigation, said Wednesday that two of the five were released. Still held on the charges are James F. DeCambra, 20, of 948 Douglas court, San Leandro; Ralph E. Valdez, 20, 1517 52nd avenue, Oakland, and Joaquin G. Chavez, 24, of 3956 23rd street, San Francisco.

Mrs. Ruffer will also be called in for investigation, police said.

CITY 'CLEARS' KIDS, CHANGES PIN BALL LAWS

The council Monday night corrected a rather embarrassing error in a city ordinance which is intended to crack down on the illegal use of pin-ball machines.

They amended Ordinance 400, which stated that no minor would be allowed to play any coin-operated amusement device.

The obvious intent was to keep kids away from pin-ball machines—but City Attorney Paul Hupf, busy codifying all city ordinances, noted that the language of the old ordinance meant that juke boxes, kiddie rides and candy machines also would thus be illegal devices for the yo[illegible]

CHALLENGED on the authenticity of the explosive fire underwriters report which sent insurance rates skyrocketing here, Carl Weers (second from right), of the National Board of Fire Underwriters' Pacific Coast office, told Daly City officials last week that his organization felt the report was substantially correct. Citing to Weers the alleged discrepancies in the report are (left to right) Pete Markovich, chamber of commerce; Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy, Councilman Francis Pacelli, Public Works Director Otis Calhoun and City Manager George Watts. Watts said the city might take legal steps if the report is not corrected. THE RECORD photo

MOVE FOR INDEPENDENCE

DC To Quit County Library Agreement

The city council Monday night asked for a resolution to remove Daly City from the county library system, effective at the beginning of the next fiscal year, this July.

The action came on recommendation of City Manager George Watts and City Librarian Samuel Chandler, who said the break with the county would be an economical move to give Daly City more control and more efficiency in its expanding library program.

The resolution asking for withdrawal must go to county supervisors for action by February 1.

Chandler said Daly City can operate its library more effectively if it severs ties with the county. The present system, he says, has caused too much duplication of administration and Daly City hasn't been getting its share of county services in proportion to the library tax the county levies here.

Name Architect For Westlake Library Branch

The city council moved full speed ahead on the planned $173,000 Westlake library Monday night by selecting San Francisco architect Francis J. McCarthy, 49, to design the structure.

City Attorney Paul Hupf was instructed to draw up a contract with McCarthy, judged the most suitable for the job by the Library Commission, City Manager George Watts, City Public Works Director Otis Calhoun and City Librarian Sam Chandler.

The library is expected to be ready for Westlake residents this November. The site, located on Southgate avenue near Hunt's Donut Shop, was purchased from Henry Doelger for $20,000.

The new library, built to replace the pint-sized branch on Park Plaza drive, will be paid for from capital outlay funds.

The present city budget has about $70,000 earmarked to

Supermarket Burglary Duo Found Guilty

Two of the four East Bay men caught outside Town and Country Market here October 24 were found guilty of burglary in the first degree by jury edict last week in Redwood City Superior Court.

Estle Lindsay and Carl Robinson are due for sentencing on first degree burglary counts. Their companions, George Keyisuke and Charles Shorter, pled guilty to second degree charges.

The four men were nabbed by Daly City police just before midnight October 24 outside the big supermarket in Westlake. Lindsay, an ex-convict, had a loaded .38 caliber revolver with him when Officer James Sunderland surprised the would-be raiders.

High Schools To Hold Graduation On Same Evening

Seniors at Jefferson and Westmoor high schools from now on will graduate on the same evening, district trustees decided Monday night.

Supt. Ed Morgan said the new policy was made to conform with the school calendar designation of the number of days students must attend classes.

This new policy also will eliminate the confusion some parents face when they have youngsters graduating the same week at different schools. Graduation exercises for Daly City's two intermediate schools thus will not conflict with the high school commencement ceremonies.

Morgan said the high school gradution dates will fall each year on the Thursday evening before the final day of classes. This year the graduations will be on June 11. In 1958, the high school exercises were on Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

Another OLPH-Sponsored Boxing Card For DC Fans Next Week

Twenty of Northern California's top amateur boxers, each with Golden Gloves hopes, will exchange leather here on Thursday evening, January 22, when OLPH Men's Club presents another fine boxing program at Daly City War Memorial building.

Proceeds will aid the local youth movement and if the show is a success, Daly City stands a good chance to land the Golden Gloves trials next month.

Tickets are on sale now at several locales. Call Dick Liberty, JU 8-3215, Walt Gillies, JU 4-8004, or get them at McGraw's Drug Store or at Val's Redwood room. The ducats are $2 for reserved ringside, $1 general admission and 50 cents for youngsters.

Daly City fight fans in the past have given top support to OLPH's periodic boxing programs. Many of the performers here have advanced to national amateur ring finals.

Last-minute ticket buyers are assured that a few tickets will be sold at the door next week. The bouts begin at 8 p.m.

COUNCIL NAMES JOSEPH ARCH NEW CITY FINANCE DIRECTOR

Daly City's vacant director of finance post will be filled on February 1 when 37-year-old Joseph A. Arch reports for duty.

The council Monday night approved City Manager George Watts' recommendation of Arch as the "most outstanding of 12 candidates who applied for the job."

Arch, father of five, currently is employed by the State Controllers Office, Division of Budgets and Reports, as an accountant auditor.

A native of New Jersey, Arch is a graduate of San Diego State College, where he majored in accounting and minored in economics, receiving his B.A. degree in 1949. During World War II, he served in the Navy, aboard an aircraft carrier and at shore stations as a radio man.

Since graduation from San Diego State, Arch has worked as an accountant-auditor with the State Department of Education, with private firms, and with the state controllers' office. He began his work with

OFFICIALS HERE ANGRY

Underwriters Asked To Prove Accuracy

Fighting fire with fire, Daly City leaders today made plans to "go to the highest authorities" if last week's bomb-like fire insurance report is to be accepted as authentic and an accurate basis for fire insurance rate hikes here.

City Manager George Watts and Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy claim the report of the National Board of Fire Underwriters is loaded with errors, discrepancies and inconsistencies.

It's so far off base, Kennedy says, that corrections by the National Board not only are in order but will be demanded to save the city an estimated $25,000 in fire insurance hikes.

Whether the fire underwriters will agree to make corrections in their report remains doubtful. Their representative, Carl A. Weers, last week in conference with Watts, Kennedy, Councilman Francis Pacelli and City Engineer Otis Calhoun, refused to admit the report was in error, as the four city representatives angrily pointed out.

The new fire insurance rates on homes and businesses went up almost 30 percent in each bracket as of January 1. Roughly, this means fire insurance coverage will be some $60,000 higher here this year.

The 22-page report, released with an unproar last week, said Daly City's fire dangers were extreme due to the lack of sufficient equipment and manpower.

This fact the council and Kennedy admit, but they won't go along with some 30 items in the report on the fire department alone which brought more deficiency points against the department and subsequent reclassification of the city into a higher-pay class for fire insurance rates.

The city, on the basis of the report, has jumped from a class Four fire insurance category to Class Seven, raising rates by more than $60,000.

Daly City got the Class Four rating when the underwriters made their last survey here in 1942. But Kennedy maintains that the new report, asked by the city two years ago, awkwardly adds more deficiency points "even though we have improved our department and have immediate plans for adding two new pumper trucks, more personnel and a new fire station in Westlake this year."

Kennedy's protest on points assessed against his department in department personnel, fire alarms and fire prevention, are just one phase of city challenges to the report. The public works department hasn't completed its review of the report, especially the matter of water supply,

$300,000 Bond Sale Set By School Board

A resolution asking for the sale of $300,000 in bonds within the next 60 days was inked Monday night by high school trustees.

Supt. Ed Morgan said the money would be used this year to complete several projects and qualify the district for state funds to launch the two Pacifica high schools, Oceana in Sharp Park and Terra Nova in Linda Mar.

Some of the $300,000 in bonds will be used to supply Jefferson High with approximately $50,000 in new furniture, complete payment to Bragato Company for grading and other off-

Trustees Okay Fire Station Site Purchase

High school trustees Monday night accepted the city's offer of $11,718 for the 150x150-foot site for the new fire station on the southwest corner of the Westmoor High property.

Both the district and city took appraisals on the piece of land, which will be a part of a planned new city park.

The board also formally gave the city an OK to consolidate the sales tax referendum with the school trustee elections on May 19. The elementary school district made this motion last week.

In other business Monday, trustees:

1. Filed notice of completion on Arras Company on-site work at Westmoor.
2. Granted sabbatical leave requests of teachers Joseph Lassegues, auto shop, and Mrs. Mildred Green, English department, for the next school year. Lassegues intends to complete work for his degree at SF State. Mrs. Green will study languages in Europe.
3. Added Rose Marie Crowder to the Westmoor cafeteria staff.

ROOKIE COP FIRED HERE: BAD ATTITUDE

Rookie patrolman Donald C. Bourbin, 28, was released from the Daly City police force last week because his superiors felt his performance was below par and he lacked the right "temperament" for the job.

Chief Roland Petrocchi said Bourbin was asked to resign and did so without much dispute.

All new police officers here are given a six-months probationary period before they are confirmed for permanent duty. Bourbin became a member of the department last September 28.

According to Petrocchi, Bourbin had disagreements with his sergeants and other supervisors.

Bourbin was not available for comment. His home phone number and address were not disclosed to the press.

pay for the new library. The balance will be paid off next year.

Six architects were interviewed for the job by the city manager, Calhoun and Chandler. This trio then forwarded the names of three men to the Library Commission.

Dr. Lionel Farber, president of the Library Commission, said McCarthy was a unanimous choice due to his experience in designing public buildings, his originality, and his willingness to provide the most functional building.

McCarthy designed the Inyo County Library, Inyo County Health Center, Southern Inyo Hospital, and Bishop Union High School. Currently, he is working on new libraries in Watsonville and San Leandro, both bond issue projects. He also is designing St. Mark's Episcopal Church in Berkeley.

The new library will serve Westlake residents exclusively. Preliminary estimates call for a structure occupying 7500 square feet, complete with modern equipment and complete facilities.

Chandler said the present Westlake Branch contains 6000 of the city's 18,000 library books. Six thousand of the total number belong to the county. But once the city goes off the county library system and collects the full library tax here, these books will be replaced as the city will purchase its own texts from surplus library funds.

Chandler estimates that nearly 20,000 Daly City area residents use the two present branches. At least 2000 of these users are non-residents. When Daly City severs its ties with the county system, these outsiders will have to pay their share for using DC facilities.

Chandler said this probably will mean the county will contract with Daly City for non-residents' use of the Daly City branches. Under the old system, these 2000 users weren't paying their share here.

Dr. Irwin Sage, assistant director of public health, spoke on "Our Health . . . Yesterday and Today," Monday night before the St. Michael's Mothers club.

Mothers of fifth grade students served refreshments.

ent totals 17 cents per $100 assessed valuation. Ten cents of this goes directly to the county —these funds being apportioned to the cities on the county system on a ratio of population.

Watts said that by breaking with the county, Daly City would collect the full 17 cents per $100, using the money where it is most needed and knowing that the funds will be available in entirety.

Chandler pointed out that all of the big city libraries in the county operate independently of the county system. The smaller communities, however, just don't have the funds to support their own libraries. Chandler said that the San Bruno, South San Francisco, Burlingame, Redwood City and San Mateo libraries all are efficiently managed and self-supporting.

Leaving the county system here won't mean a complete break, Chandler pointed out. The city still will be able to contract for special county services, such as cataloguing. In turn, he said, the county will probably contract with Daly City to pay for services supplied here to residents of the nearby unincorporated areas—Broadmoor and Colma.

Chandler said that about 2000 of the 20,000 library users in Daly City are non-residents. Their only facilities otherwise come from small county branch offices and county mobile units.

Chandler said this move for independence for the Daly City library might mean the library tax rate would climb a few cents. At present, under the 17 cents tax levy, he is able to operate the system within the bounds of his department's $66,500 budget.

Six thousand of Daly City's estimated 18,000 books (at the Park Plaza drive and Mission street branches) belong to the county. Chandler says these 6000 can be replaced by using some $10,000 in surplus library funds.

the state office in May of 1952 and remained there until December of 1955, leaving to join a Sacramento firm until August of 1956 when he returned to the State Controller's staff.

Watts said Arch's salary would be $722 a month, the first step on the finance director's salary schedule here. This amounts to $8664 a year.

The city finance directorship has been handled on a temporary basis by Allan Hertel, veteran city finance employee, since Watts left the finance port last year to become city manager.

Arch talked with councilmen Monday night and will meet with the full council prior to assuming the post here on February 1.

Former High School Chief Recovering From Heart Attack

Stanford Hannah, former superintendent of Jefferson High School District, is "coming along fine" after suffering a heart attack earlier this month.

This was Superintendent Ed Morgan's progress report to trustees Monday night. Hannah is in Mills hospital and is expected home shortly.

Hannah and his wife last year made a tour of Europe. He has been very active in the Daly City-Colma Lions Club.

ie and cake sales and potlucks, though they must all acquire permits from the county and are subject to inspection. These non-profit and charitable fund-raising projects, in general, will not require payment of special license fees. But the organizations must obtain permits and show proof that the food is prepared in licensed kitchens.

Councilman Francis Pacelli was the only councilman voting against adoption of the ordinance. Councilman Bob St. Clair was absent. Pacelli thinks the small organizations will lose too much revenue by the restrictions.

The ordinance provides that a board of appeal in cases of protests will be composed of two members of the city council and one county representative. One councilman and a council-appointed person will serve on this board.

In line with the food ordinance, the council also adopted an amendment to its business license ordinance. This was done to give Daly City residents credit in paying food license fees.

The regular city business license fee is $18. If a person pays $5 to $10 of this to the county for a food license, only the balance of the $18 must be paid to the city.

site work at Westmoor, and to pay for the Terra Nova school site on the Coast.

Morgan said the district should be able to enter the state aid program this spring, starting the funds rolling for the two Pacifica projects. Both Oceana and Terra Nova are expected to open in September of 1961. Construction is due to start in the summer of 1960.

The board Monday authorized Oceana architect Mario Ciampi to take soil tests on the multi-level Sharp Park site east of the highway. Morgan and trustees this Saturday morning in the superintendent's office will view the first site utilization plans on Terra Nova, submitted by architects Falk and Booth.

Underwriters Asked To Show Accuracy

size of mains, location of pumps et cetera. Calhoun believes there are plenty of discrepancies in the report on his departments too.

Watts told the national board spokesman last week that Daly City wasn't going to "sit on its hands and let this report ride with all its errors, discrepancies and misinformation."

"We'll go to the highest authorities, even to court, if you people don't correct these errors, Watts told the visitor.

Insurance man Pete Markovich, reporesenting the North San Mateo County Insurance Agents Association, and the Chamber of Commerce, said both groups also would appeal to the state board of insurance and the National Board of Underwriters in New York. "We feel Daly City has been discrimmenated against," Markovich told Weers.

The report actually was compiled by three engineers of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, in December of 1957 and January of 1958. It was published in December 1958.

One of Kennedy's biggest arguments is that several items in his department which were improved upon before the report was published were not taken into consideration by the underwriters.

"If we can get the underwriters to correct many of the mistakes in their report on my department alone," said the chief, "I think we can hack off more than 100 points charged against us, thus putting the city back in Class 6 and meaning lower insurance rates."

Watts, making a stinging report Monday night to the council, termed the report "factual in general, but there are many discrepancies which tend to bring out the validity as this report being the sole judge and factor governing fire insurance rates in Daly City."

Watts said that after two meetings with the underwriters, "the answers from the board concerning various so — called facts in the report have not been answered to my and Kennedys satisfaction."

"Many deficiency points in the report," Watts continued, "charged for operations of the fire department, police department and water system are unjustified. The city's administrative staff is preparing factual information to prove this report incorrect in may instances."

Watts pointed out that the national board had failed to give Daly City credit for improvements made after the underwriters' survey was made here early last year.

"We made several improvements," said Watts. "But none of these were taken into consideration before the new fire rates were established by the national board."

Watts said many of the city's plans for improvements overlooked by the underwriters included several capital outlay projects approved in the current fiscal budget. These are headed by funds for the new Westlake fire station ($90,000 project), two 1250 gallons-per-minute fire pumper trucks ($50,000) and more fire department equipment.

The council also provided budget funds for adding two more firemen last October and plans to add four more on July 1 this year when the new Westlake fire station will be opened. More firemen will be added to fully staff this new station.

Watts said the addition of two new firemen last October, though reported to the national board, was not taken into account in the report and DC was given more deficiency points in this category.

Another instance of the report's discrepancies, Kennedy shows, is that last year the underwriters recommended two 1000 gallon-per-minute pumper trucks. In the published report, however, the board said the city needed one pumper and a fire ladder truck. Kennedy claims the board thus contradicted itself and his department does not need another fire ladder truck in an area of this type.

Watts added that the council also in its present budget had made plans to improve transportation for the fire chief and his battalion heads. An appropriation has been made for a new fire chief's car and an equipment pool arrangement for other city vehicles to be shared by all city departments.

The council last year also earmarked capital outlay funds for water improvements. These improvements, Watts went on, will help to reduce the existing water deficiency, as cited in the report.

Though underwriters representative Weers stood pat here last week and said "we still feel the report is accurate," Chief Kennedy said that his blasts against the new deficiency points are justified.

"They say our protest involve only minor items," said the chief. "But in my department alone, I think we can prove that if the errors in the report are corrected, some 117 points will be taken off and the city will step down from Class Seven to Class Six."

This adjustment, he said, could save the city about $25,000 in added fire insurance rates.

The new deficiency points against the city included more for weather hazards, lack of adequate listing of fire department numbers in the phone directory (although this listing exists), lack of enough firemen (though the city didn't get credit for the new men), and so on down the line.

Watts said his staff soon would have the entire report checked out and then would "explore every means to prove this report not entirely true and factual."

The city manager, councilmen and city attorney will present their protest to San Francisco office representatives of the National Board on Tuesday morning, January 27. At this time, the Daly City contingent will learn if they will have to resort to legal means to have the underwriters' report corrected, Watts said.

ANNUAL APPEAL

County's Easter Seal Campaign Will Aid Disabled Kids, Adults

Public contributions to last spring's Easter Seal fund campaign helped provide greater services for San Mateo County's disabled children and adults than ever before in its 18-year history, the San Mateo County Society for Crippled Children and Adults announced in a "summing-up" report on its 1958 activities.

"Naturally, we're proud of what we were able to do in '58" said St. George Lafitte, president of the Society. "But we can't afford to gloat over past accomplishments. We know there will be more disabled persons of all ages in '59—we're sure the public will respond sufficiently to our next Easter Seal appeal commencing Februrary 27, so we can do more to better the health and welfare of San Mateo County's handicapped."

Lafitte explained that most direct services are provided at or through the Society's Rehabilitation and Research Center which offers speech and hearing therapy, physical therapy, occupational therapy and a Sheltered Workshop to hasten "total rehabilitation of the total person."

Lafitte said the San Mateo County Society also plays a part in helping finance research studies throughout the county and at the Center itself. Such projects delve into causes, prevention and treatment of many crippling conditions, he explained.

Still other services mentioned were those offered professional personnel and parents of handicapped children — such as psychological consultation, vocational evaluation and guidance for the handicapped, and a training setting for graduate students in various areas of physical rehabilitation work.

Post 410 Fights Polio In 'Blue Crutch' Sales

American Legion Post No. 410 of Daly City will sponsor "Blue Crutch Day" for the National Foundation this Friday and Saturday, according to Rudolph Krevolt, Daly City chairman for the March of Dimes campaign now under way.

Scores of Legion veterans, both men and women, will be selling the familiar Blue Crutch lapel tags in banks, supermarkets and other high traffic locations in the Daly City area. The volunteers are working under the direction of Frank Fischer, Daly City post commander.

According to Fischer, the American Legion feels that this blue tag activity is a vital part of its community service, particularly in the field of child welfare. "While March of Dimes contributions made the Salk polio vaccine a reality, our area still has polio-crippled people on its rolls," he said.

With the new expanded program of the National Foundation to include arthritis, rheumatism and birth defects, both Fischer and Krevolt hoped that "every person in Daly City will make sizeable contributions on Blue Crutch Day."

The basic principle of television was first perfected in San Francisco by Philo T. Farnsworth, according to the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

Jeff Principal, Three Teachers On Radio Panel

Principal John Mongan and three members of his Jefferson High faculty will appear on a panel discussion this Saturday at 1:30 p.m. on Radio F.M. Station KPFA, 94.1 megacycles on the dial.

The program will have as its topic, "The Principal Meets His Teachers."

Appearing with Morgan will be Miss Julianne Hansen, Ken Brown and Donald Behm.

This is the second occasion that members of the Jefferson High staff have been represented on the "Critics Circle" panel program series. Previously, Brown, Behm, and Miss Jansen discussed creative teaching in the high school curriculum.

Hal Bronstein, moderator and producer of the popular Critics Circle program, has presented many varied topics of cultural interest to the public. The present series of panel discussions deals with some of the important educational functions and problems that are of particular current interest.

Saturday's program should prove to be of special interest to parents in the Daly City area who wish to become more familiar with the relationships between principal, teachers, students, and the school educational objectives.

Burlingamers Spank Indians By 52-30 Tally

Burlingame had too much backboard control and got 22 points from Forward Craig Murray here Friday night as the Panthers opened up the Peninsula League campaign by clouting Jefferson's "cold" Indians, 52-30.

Coach Mike Orlich's locals trailed all the way. High-scoring Roy Reitz of Jeff was held to eight points—his lowest output of the year.

Quarter scores were 10-5, 24-14 and 39-24.

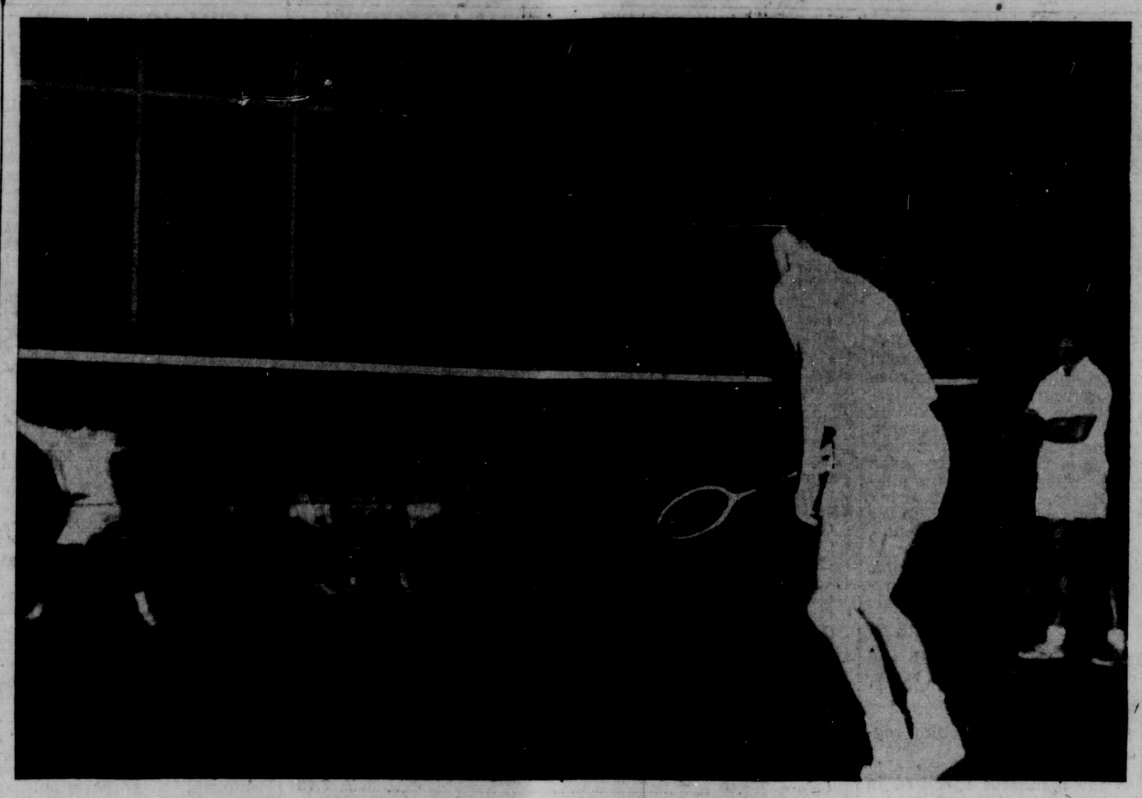
Murray bagged eight field goals and six charities. His running mate, Tony Broadwood, got 9 points. Bob O'Donnell got most of the renounds in his duels with rival centers Pete Garcia and Alan Lee.

Ernie Howren, the second-half of Jeff's scoring punch, connected for five field goals. But with Reitz bottled up most of the game, Jeff wasn't clicking as a unit.

The Burlingame lightweights also won, 31-27, in the preliminary. Ralph Colario with 10 points paced Rick Warren's losers. Rich Mortola got 9 points and J. B. Berry picked up 6. Halftime count favored Burlingame, 19-12.

In other Friday varsity openers, San Mateo routed Westmoor, 63-37; Hillsdale belted Mills, 69-31, and Capuchino laced South City, 62-30. San Mateo, Hillsdale and Capuchino also won the lightweight contests.

The Indians hosted Mills this Wednesday and meet San Mateo there this Friday night. Next week, Jeff meets Capuchino on Wednesday and Westmoor in the Jeff gym on Friday night, January 23.



SOME 60 Daly City adults and teenagers attended the badminton clinic last week at War Memorial building. Members of the Northern California Badminton Association demonstrated the sport. Classes for beginners and advanced players are held each Thursday evening at the big community center gym. Call PL 5-0850, Extension 18, for more details.

Jeff High's First Wrestling Squad Makes Bid For Title

Coach Joe McGrath's Jefferson High wrestling squad is right in the thick of the seven-team Peninsula League title race.

The Indian matmen entered this week's battles with South City (Wednesday) and Mills (here Friday) with a 2-2 record. They beat Burlingame and upset highly-touted Capuchino, 28-26. Losses came at the hands of Westmoor and unbeaten San Mateo.

McGrath, bossing a 38-man squad of eager-beavers, thinks his team could be near the top by the time the second round of league play ends.

He'll enter a full 12-man squad in the league championship meet on February 14 at San Mateo High.

Two footballers, Bob Nielson, 175-pound division, and Jim Ahern, 154-pound bracket are the best performers thus far for the Indians. Nielson has lost but once in four matches. Ahern has won two and lost two.

A special Westlake Auto Show supplement will appear in the TIMES the day the show opens.

The Navy's new aircraft carrier USS Independence, will carry more than 100 jet-powered planes which will be able to carry the latest weapons to targets far beyond the reach of earlier carrier based planes.

The city-sponsored badminton classes will continue each Thursday night at War Memorial building, with teenage play from 7 to 8 p.m. and adult participation from 8 to 10 p.m.

Registration for the program is still open — especially for teenagers. Miss Pierce and several capable instructors will be on hand each week to teach those who have never played the game before. For the intermediate and advanced players, there will be the opportunity to find good matches with partners of similar experience.

Players are requested to wear tennis or gym shoes and comfortable, casual clothes. The department will supply the shuttlecocks and has a limited number of rackets available. Some rackets have been donated by the Hunters, who impressed with their skills last week.

Westlake Bowl Leagues Going Full Blast . . . 26 Loops To Date

After the first week of league play, the various teams at Swanson's Westlake Bowl are settling down to the weekly battle for first place, with an eye on the prize money to be distributed at the end of the league.

With 26 different leagues starting during the week, openings remain in only the Sunday 8:30 p.m. Mixed Fours, and the Friday 6:15 Mixed Fours. Those interested in these leagues are instructed to contact Bob Elliott, PL 6-5777, as soon as possible.

Over 200 youngsters are enrolled in the Saturday moring Junior Leagues under the sponsorship of the American Junior Bowling Congress. Last Saturday in addition to Ora Mayer and the Bowl staff, representatives of the San Francisco Bowling Association were on hand to assist in getting those between the ages of 8 and 18 off on the right foot.

Due to the many and varied requests from bowlers of the area, formation of the leagues in a manner to satisfy the most people was a difficult task. Every effort was made to cater to new bowlers and to place teams on as equal a basis as possible. For this reason, all but one of the leagues are on a handicap basis. In an effort to make the Bowl a part of the community and give everyone an opportunity to participate, Johnny Swanson has established a policy of dividing the lanes between league play and open play. Being the only Bowl in the San Francisco area following such a policy, bowlers of all classes have found the facilities of the Bowl the answer to their recreation needs.

Ruth Roman of the Westlake Keglerettes, bowling Thursday afternoon, scored the first 200 game in women's league competition. The high men's score of the week was bowled by Walt Calais of the Field-Ernst Envelope team in the Monday Men's Handicap League. Holding an average of 160, Walt made a total of 214 in the first game Monday night.
